STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1894.

NO. 46

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—There are several cases of fever in town.

—Several of our citizens attended court at Liberty Monday.

—Rev. H. M. Shouse is holding a few days' meeting at Myers' school house or Carpenter's Creek.

—Miss Allie McDaniel, of the Louisville Masons home, is very sick at J. M. Durham's. Miss Della Hughes, of Lancaster, is here visiting her cousin, Mrs. Wilford Dye.

—G. W. Taylor lectured to a small crowd at Mr. C. M. McWhorter's Sunday night. The writer was not present but learns from those who were that Mr. G. talk and queer actions were more amusing than instructive.

—It is reported that "Jack the Ripper" has been a candidate for county attorney in Marion, Taylor and Russell counties before coming to this county and has failed in his aspirations in every instant. It is not known to what county he will emigrate next.

—It is evident that the American Book Company will have much trouble in collecting for charts, &c., put into the schools last winter. A general kicking is going on over the country against paying for them, while we hear of a number of districts that will stand a suit before doing so. The swindle is a gigantic one and ought to be looked into. The same apparatus can now be bought from other companies at about half the price at which it was sold by agents last winter.

—The republican primary here last Saturday was a very quiet one. There was but very little whisky on the ground and the best of feelings prevailed. Dr. I. C. Dye carried the precinct by 97 votes over Humphrey, Watkins and Alstott, for clerk. J. M. Tilford had a majority of 60 over Judge W. G. Raines for county judge, notwithstanding Raines had repeatedly asserted that he would carry Tilford's own district. Clay Godfrey beat J. E. Tarter, alias "Jack the Ripper," at every voting place in the community.

A homely woman is one of nature's mistakes.

The street cars at Savannah, Ga., only charge one cent.

—Man is the weakest of all animals in proportion to his size.

—The Congressional library contains about 700,000 volumes.

—There will be no harvest excursions to the West this year.

—Cholera is mowing down the Russians by the thousands.

—The school census shows that there are 30,495 pupils in Cincinnati.

—The number of employees in the service of American railways on June 30, 1891, was 873,602.

Nearly everybody smokes in Japan. The girls begin when they are 10 years of age, and the boys a year earlier.

—A Richmond girl recently undertook to burn a mole off her face with a stove poker. She is badly scarred for life.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Jefferson was elected school trustee at Mayslick. She is the first lady to hold office in Mason county.

—A Harrodsburg man has offered $10,000 for the exclusive privilege of running a saloon in that city for ten years.

—Many a woman who has made a man unhappy for a time by declining his offer of marriage has afterward earned his eternal gratitude for her discernment.

—They say Corbett's weight is now 210 pounds, which recalls Snellin's remark that a prize-fighter who tips the scales above 200 pounds is in imminent danger of getting licked ultimately.

—It is the boast of Congressman Paul Sorg, of Ohio, who employs 1,000 men in his tobacco factory at Middletown that he knows them by face and name. He has never reduced their wages and has never had a strike. Of course Mr. Sorg is a democrat.

—The work of registering the physicians of the State under the new law has been completed. More than 2,000 who had attended a medical school were given certificates. Eighteen who had not been examined and registered and failed. More than 1,000 doctors have been debarred from practice.

—Did that fellow who was hanged die in the hope of a better life, like the most of them?"

"I am not right sure about that," remarked the minister. "He made his breakfast entirely off ice cream. He seemed to have some doubt that there would be any of it where he was going."

THOSE WHO ARE POSTED.—Will tell you that the finest and healthiest summer resorts in the northwest are located along the Wisconsin Central Lines, among which are Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Antioch, Burlington, Mukwonago, Wakesha, Neenah, Waupaca, Fifield, Ashland and Duluth. Tourists and pleasure seekers figuring on their next summer's vacation should bear this in mind and before selecting a route drop a line to Jas. C. Pond, General Passenger Agent of the Wisconsin Central Lines, at Milwaukee, Wis., and he will send you maps, time tables and guide books containing valuable information, which are mailed free upon application.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—A mad pig was killed in town Monday.

—Little Miss Lou Vowels is in from Middlehorn.

—The wife of G. W. Fagan died at Pine Hill Wednesday.

—The next session of Mrs. Nesbitt's school will begin Sept. 10th.

—A W. C. T. U. was organized here last week by Mrs. Harriet L. Adams.

—Ten prisoners now in jail here. Some are being worked upon the streets.

—The Aid Society give a social this evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

—Water is getting so scarce that the stave mill is obliged to haul it from ponds.

—Mrs. Lizzie Adams will entertain Friday evening in honor of her guest, Miss McElroy.

—A sexton, aged 80, of Conway, this county, was married last Saturday to Miss Hilda Farly, aged 13.

—The temperance workers will endeavor to have the temperance educational law enforced in this county.

—A four-foot rattlesnake was killed near town Tuesday. Mr. Robert Taylor reports that a nephew of his killed one just south of Crab Orchard measuring nine feet.

—Mr. John G. Taylor, of Richmond, has been prospecting for minerals in the Eastern part of this county. It is understood he found some specimens of lead and zinc ore.

—The celebrated Taylor-Hysinger case was up again before Judge Lair yesterday, making the third time, resulting in a hung jury. The trouble arose over a horse and mule swap some five months since.

—J. H. Albright, of Brodhead, while on his way here Wednesday lost his watch. On going to the Signal office here to advertise his loss, he met Jack Adams, Jr., who was on the same errand to report finding it.

—J. W. Nesbitt had some men working in the stave business for him at Hazel Patch last week. He says one of the parties purloined or bilked one of the cars for his own benefit. The wires have been used to head the car off at Louisville.

—Miss Lena Newcomb is visiting friends in Garrard county. Mrs. M. C. Williams has been quite ill. Mr. James Houk is very ill. Miss Florence Brown is visiting Miss Rosa Myers at Woodbine.

—There will be no harvest excursions to the West this year.

—Cholera is mowing down the Russians by the thousands.

—The school census shows that there are 30,495 pupils in Cincinnati.

—The number of employees in the service of American railways on June 30, 1891, was 873,602.

Nearly everybody smokes in Japan. The girls begin when they are 10 years of age, and the boys a year earlier.

—A Richmond girl recently undertook to burn a mole off her face with a stove poker. She is badly scarred for life.

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Croquet has become a very popular game in our town.

—The B. H. R. M. Co. are repairing their mill and will be ready for work in about 10 days.

—The praise meeting at Gum Sulphur Sunday was quite a success. A good dinner and good speaking and everything went off quietly.

—A young colored man by the name of Wesley Jones, who has been living with R. C. Reynolds for a few years, died Sunday morning. They baptized him Sunday morning and he died in a few minutes afterwards. Cause of death, lung trouble.

—Hon. James B. McCreary will not only get the democratic vote in the district, but will get some of the soldiers' and prohibitionists' votes also. The soldiers say they can not afford to go back on the old governor.

—Miss Jennie L. Reynolds came down Saturday to see her old friends and went down Sunday to assist in filling up the program at Gum Sulphur. Mr. J. H. Albright went to Mt. Vernon Wednesday and on the road or in town lost a gold filled watch which belonged to his wife. The finder will be liberally rewarded by returning the watch to this office or to J. H. Albright at Brodhead.

—Please allow me to ask the voters of my county a question or two on the liquor problem in our county, for I think it is the greatest question that is now before us; because it wastes more of the people's earnings, because it destroys more homes, more immortal souls than any other one evil. Because it does more to corrupt our politics, destroy the manhood upon which the life of the nation depends; because it makes more moral cowards out of otherwise good men; because it is in some places a public highway robbery. It respects no law, either of God or man. Its hand seems to be against everybody and everything that does not bow to its commands.

—Resolved. That the republican party cordially sympathizes with all wise and well directed efforts for the promotion of temperance and morality.

Now, in view of these facts, can we either as democrats or republicans who who are in favor of temperance and morality, afford to vote for any whisky man to fill any of the high offices to be filled in this county? So long as we allow our party prestige to rise above our duty to our homes, our God and ourselves, we may expect lawlessness, intemperance, &c. May God help us all to vote for good, moral, sober men for each office is my prayer.

DANVILLE.—The Teacher's Institute begins Monday.—Henry Cartwright, the well known jeweler, who has been in business on Third street, for some time, died yesterday afternoon. He was a native of England and was born in 1845.—Mr. George H. Bruce, of Lexington, who travels for a large eastern shoe house, will locate his family in Danville this fall in order to avail himself of our superior educational facilities.

Mrs. JULIA CRAIG DUNN, of Wichita, Kansas, a highly cultured singer, was heard at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday. Her selection was "Calvary." Her voice is a lovely soprano; is rich and full of quality and possesses sweetness and magnetism to an unrivaled degree. Apart from her artistic singing, Mrs. Dunn is a most charming lady, and has won many friends and admirers here who wish she could be induced to remain during the winter—Advocate.

—The Tartars take a man by the ear to invite him to eat and drink with them.

—The democrats of the Ninth Iowa district have endorsed Gen. James B. Weaver, the populist nominee for Congress.

—Breckinridge's friends claim that a recent poll of the Seventh district shows 8,550 votes for their favorite, nearly twice as many as either of his competitors will get.

—Mr. Albert Purdy died at his home near Hustonville Tuesday, after an illness of several days. He was a blacksmith by trade and was an honorable, upright man. A wife and one child survive him.

—James Abbott, of Lynx, O., has a body nearly 400 years old which is in a good state of preservation. It has been handed down from generation to generation in his family for over 300 years.

—Jared D. Tuttle, who died at Attica, N. Y., last Thursday, in his 85th year, had been an active railroad conductor for the past 56 years. His surviving wife had lived with him for 60 years.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always kept Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family would not be without it if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtless the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for 10 years. It has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. It is a strong, incense-like oil long tried and tested. Trial bottle free at A. R. Penny's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wn., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism; his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters relieved him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklin's Arnica Salve and had it so good a result that he ordered another box. Now he is entirely well.

James Abbott, of Lynx, O., has a

LANCASER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—The crossing at Richmond and Depot streets has been repaired and is a good piece of work.

—We regret to announce the illness of Editor J. R. Marrs, of the Record. He is confined to his home in Danville, but his physician thinks he will be out soon.

—An impromptu hop was given by the young men of Lancaster at the Mason House Monday evening, in honor of the visiting young ladies. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

—Mrs. S. D. Rothwell, who has charge of the old Dripping Springs, has a large number of boarders on hand and is making the famous old resort quite popular. A stage load of young ladies went up from here Tuesday and report a delightful trip.

—The railroads have refused to give reduced rates to Washington, and the result is that a very few Knights of Pythias will attend the encampment to be held at that city. Unless the roads come down to a reasonable rate no one will go from here.

—The local band will go to High Bridge Sunday, where they will take a steam boat and make an excursion to Louisville. They will return by boat to Frankfort and come home by rail. The boat "Fair City" pays all expenses and will be a great trip. The boys will get back Wednesday night.

—Misses Hyatt, of Lexington, are visiting Miss Florence Anderson. Mr. Carpenter Stewart is spending the week at Crab Orchard. Misses Mary and Georgia Miller and May Hughes returned Tuesday from Lawrenceburg. Miss Besse Olga Marksbury is visiting her friend Miss Minnie Denman, at Nicholasville. Miss Tally Orland, of Texas, is the guest of Miss Maggie Jennings. Miss Nellie Dillon returned from Richmond Saturday. Mr. Huffman Young, of Louisville, is visiting his grandfather, Dr. Huffman. Mr. H. M. Ballou and family are at Dripping Springs. Miss Lettie Brown is attending the Nicholasville Fair. Miss Susie Duncan, daughter of Judge Wm. McKee Duncan, of Louisville, is visiting her cousin, Miss Christine Bradley. Mr. Jim Curry, of Louisville, is here on a visit to his parents Ed Morrow, Keg Mason and several others attended the Nicholasville Fair.

AFTER one of the most exciting campaigns in its history, Alabama democrats elected Col. Oatts governor, with a full State ticket by some 30,000 majority. The populistic-republican combine headed by Kolb was snowed under much worse than in 1892 and it now seems to be forever done for. Owing to the fact that the combination sided with the white miners in their strike and massacre of the negroes who took their places, the colored contingent as a rule voted the democratic ticket. The Legislature is also largely democratic, thus assuring the return of John T. Morgan to the Senate, which is perhaps the only ill result of the election. The effort of their lives was made by the republicans to break the solid South, money being need without stint, but each recurring attempt makes her more solid than ever.

The politicians may rage, but the people will imagine them very vain things when they direct their shafts at Grover Cleveland. The governor of South Carolina has been talking about sticking a pitch fork into the president's fat sides and the two Senators have traduced him in session and out and yet they can not make the people get "out of humor with Grover." The Charleston city and county democracy in convention resolved "that we denounce the unrelenting tirade of abuse and misrepresentation leveled at Grover Cleveland by men in control of the State democratic organization and the democracy of Charleston pledge their undivided support to the democratic party and its matchless leader, Cleveland."

MISS EMMA BATES and Hon. John Devine, who were candidates for State Superintendent of Schools in North Dakota, have pooled their issues in a most satisfactory manner. They were running nipp and tuck and the lady becoming scared demanded the man's unconditional withdrawal. This he refused to do, when she proposed that if he would retire from the field she would make him her deputy if elected. He took time for deliberation and finally agreed to retire if in addition to taking him into her office, she should take him to her heart as husband. She assented a condition that he would stump the State for her and now everything is lovely as the goose honks high.

With the exceptions of Gov. McCrory, Berry, Montgomery, Adams and probably Garth, there will be a new delegation in Congress from Kentucky next time. Painter, Goodnight and Ellis declined to enter the contest again; Mr. Lissie died and Stone was shelved. Democratic discontent over the failure of the party to fulfill its pledges and dissatisfaction over the distribution of the spoils are sending many statesmen to the rear, both in Kentucky and elsewhere.

PASTEUR'S treatment for hydrophobia seems to be a success. At least of the 793 alleged cases treated only six proved fatal. Perhaps, however, the others didn't have the hydrophobia. The diagnosis of that disease is likely determined about like mushrooms are told from toadstools. If you eat them and they don't kill they are mushrooms. If you have the hydrophobia and you do not die you likely did not have it.

It becomes more and more evident that Col. Breckinridge will win the nomination in the 7th. With all his faults a majority of his constituents love him still and they are almost sure to demonstrate it at the polls. At least that is what we gather in conversation with people from all over the district, nearly every county of which we have been in the last few days.

"GEN." COXKY, of commonwealth army fame, seems to really think he is in the Congressional fight in McKinley's old district in Ohio, where the populists have nominated him to represent them at Washington. He is making an active campaign and delivering speeches daily but the more he talks the less he says and fewer grows the votes he will get.

With war, pestilence and famine, the Chinese are being removed almost as fast as they increase and multiply. Cholera is raging, 50 per cent. of the cases proving fatal, but if all were to prove fatal and the Japs were to kill all their soldiers, it would still take a very long time to remove the 400,000,000 creatures, who seem to multiply like flies.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Tee heathens will rage and kill each other, while we reap the usufruct. The Japanese government wants Armour & Co., to furnish it half a million of pounds of canned beef for its soldiers.

BLOOD flecks the fair face of the moon in Louisville. The Courier-Journal is making war on the bloomer costume adopted by some of the fair dames who bestride bicycles, and rolls its prudish eyes in holy horror at the sight of a well turned limb so lavishly displayed for public gaze. The editor of the Times, with the perverseness which characterizes his nature, has come to the defense of the bloomers and their pretty wearers, and the prospect is that strained relations between these two great moral engines will result and possibly a war that will pale the Chinese-Japanese imbroglio into insignificance. Strange indeed it is what slight a cause will move dissensions between hearts that love. We usually take sides even in a dog fight, but like the woman who witnessed a desperate conflict between her husband and a bear, we do not care which wins in this contest.

At last it is said the conferees on the tariff bill have agreed, that is to say the House members of it; have yielded to nearly all the demands of the Senate bill. The only concessions are free iron ore and 40 per cent. ad valorem on sugar and 1-5 of a cent differential on the refined article, which is 2½ cents less on the 100 lbs less than the original schedule. It was said that the so-called compromise would be submitted to the whole committee yesterday and that the patch-work concern will be a law in a very few days.

THE new constitution of New York will not provide for woman suffrage. The convention has given the long bairied women who have been making the effort of their lives the cold and clammy shake and their yards of petitions have been dumped into the waste basket. These females may learn after awhile that rocking the baby's cradle is a better business than crowding around the polls and trying to unsex themselves.

PATTI Rosa's death was caused by an operation for appendicitis, the new disease which the doctors have recently discovered and usually kill their patients in caring for. The verminiform appendix is a portion of the anatomy for which there has yet been discovered no necessity, and is entirely useless except to produce trouble and give the surgeons a chance to cut.

Dens has at last declared the strike off with the exception of two roads. Some 50,000 of his deluded followers, who are now begging the railroads they sought to destroy to take them back on any terms, but in vain, realize that the strike was off almost before it was on and that they must suffer the consequences of foolishly following the orders of a blatherskite.

THE Goodnight bill to divide Kentucky into two Federal judicial districts will not become a law this session and should not smother session. The are enough Federal offices now and a second court in Kentucky is no more needed than Mr. Goodnight's public services appear to be.

Gov. CHARLEY FOSTER, of Ohio, better known as "Calico Charley," who was Harrison's secretary of the treasury, is proving that he is a good financier. He failed and is settling with his creditors at 10 cents on the dollar.

Gov. McCrory denies that he has authorized anybody to announce that he is a candidate for the Senate. He is running for a return to Congress now and only crosses bridges when he gets to them.

CHIEF JUSTICE BENNETT, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, was stricken with neuralgia of the heart while at Cervian Springs and has since been in a precarious condition.

A NEGRO up a tree near Henderson was taken for a coon and shot dead. The mistake was natural. What is a negro but a "coon" any way?

We respectfully petition the Louisville Post to resume its news notes. They would be so handy for clipping these long, hot dog days.

NEWSY NOTES.

The miners at Middlesboro have accepted the 12 per cent reduction.

Madison county republicans only nominated candidates for jailer and sheriff.

An appeal for aid will be issued in behalf of the sufferers from drought in Nebraska.

—Ex-Gov. James D. Porter, now minister to Chili, has been nominated for United States district judge of the Eastern and middle districts of Tennessee, to succeed Judge D. M. Key, resigned. The nomination meets with great opposition, it being stated that Mr. Porter is neither competent nor a citizen of the district.

—The amount of whisky in bond in the 8th district June 30, 1894, was 14,014,500 gallons. The estimated withdrawal for July were 900,000 gallons, leaving in bond August 1st 13,114,500 gallons.

—This is enough whisky to float one of those transports the Japanese sunk the other day.—Richmond Climax.

—At the Clark county primary Monday, County Judge Tooley Haggard was re-nominated and so was D. J. Pendleton for surveyor; Lee S. Baldwin was nominated for clerk; S. K. Hodgkin for sheriff; Butler Robinson, jailer; James Jewell, assessor, and Cliff Crim, coroner. There were 20 odd candidates.

—A silver lining (so far as the United States is concerned) to the war cloud in the East appears in the happy proposition of Valentine Nowaki to the Japanese government. Nowaki is the leader of the lawless foreign element at Connellsville, Pa., now involved in a coke strike, and wished to furnish 5,000 of the Slavs to Japan for fighting purposes. A movement like this should be encouraged.

—J. H. McLimons, of Massillon, O., believing he was going to have typhoid fever shot and killed himself rather than go through a spell of it.

—Jane Cakebread, one of the most famous characters in England, has appeared in the London police court for being drunk and disorderly for the 26th time. On her last appearance she got one month.

—The democratic committee of Fayette is deadlocked in its efforts to elect a chairman. Welsh and Farrell are the candidates and the vote stood 12 to 12, the only Settle man refusing to vote for either, on the ground that he would not vote for an Irishman.

—The democratic House caucus adjourned without action, after Speaker Crisp and Chairman Wilson had spoken in opposition, deprecating the call of a caucus at this time as "back-firing," calculated to weaken the House conferees in their stand for the Wilson bill.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Frank Holtzclaw sold to Steve Estes a gelding for $130.

—Iowa's corn crop has been damaged fully 40 per cent. by the drought.

—John Anderson bought of George Baker a bunch of fat heifers at 2½c.

—Tip Bruce's Barney paced a half mile at Columbus, O., the other day in 1:02.

—A. A. Russell, of Milledgeville, sold to Hill Jennings a 4-year-old jennet and jack colt for $200.

—J. M. White sold to J. H. Baumham & Co., his crop of wheat of about 800 bushels at 45c.

—The aim in breeding should be towards a higher standard in order to compensate for the deterioration in prices.

—Unless the rain comes soon the tobacco prospects will be knocked in the head. It is turning yellow and drying up.

—Dr. W. B. O'Bannon sold to D. T. Clements, of Missouri, 175 acres of land in Cass county, that State, for $3,500 cash.

—Two brothers of Mason county raised 17,825 pounds of tobacco last year on 12 acres of land and sold it the other day for $9 per hundred.

—A. S. Thompson sold to J. B. Embry for Nelson Morris, 110 fat cattle, averaging 1,000 pounds, at 4½c, to go this month.—Paris Kentuckian.

—W. A. Tripple's Katie Malloy won second money in the saddle mares and geldings stake at Nicholasville, Wednesday. Lou Chief, the $1,800 beauty, was first.

—The largest wheat grower in the world is an Italian in the Argentine Republic. He raises annually over 300,000 acres, and uses the most approved American machinery.

IN JAIL.—We learn that Deputy Marshal Wm. Stringer arrested Albert Hommel, charged with selling whisky without license, and took him to London, where he had an examining trial before a U. S. commissioner and was held to the Federal court at Louisville, Oct. 4. Not being able to give bail at the time, he was remanded to jail.

MRS. ROBT. HANN, of Denton, Texas, sends a letter to the Danville Advocate to say that all Texas must not be judged by Mrs. T. A. Gresham's letter to this paper. She has lived there five years and can truthfully say that the Lone Star State is not one whit behind Kentucky in her advantages. "You pays your money and takes your choice."

IF the good people who sprinkle the streets in front of their homes or places of business would use a little discretion they could keep down the dust just as well on much less water. We have an abundance of water, it is true, but when it comes to making mud holes in the street by constant sprinkling the Water Company has a right to kick and should do so.

ANOTHER BRAKEMAN KILLED.—David S. Cooley, son of Mr. Dan Cooley, of this place, was instantly killed near Paris Monday night. He was braking on a freight on the Maysville Branch of the K. C. and with another brakeman was standing on top of a box car. They did not see the warning, or as the train men say, the bridge guard, and just as Mr. Cooley got up to adjust the brakes the train went over a bridge and the framework above struck him in the head, breaking his neck and knocking him into the arms of his fellow brakeman.

The remains were brought here on the K. C. Tuesday afternoon and at 10 a. m. Wednesday were laid to rest in Buffalo Cemetery after appropriate remarks at the grave by Rev. A. V. Sizemore. Mr. Cooley was a splendid young man and was worshipped by his parents, who have the undivided sympathy of their many friends in this hour of sorrow.

Mrs. TILDEN COOK, Jesse M. Alveson, R. M. Newland, A. A. THEIR will be a grand soldiers' reunion and celebration by the colored people in K. L. Tanner's woodland, near McKinney on Thursday, the 30th. Many prominent speakers, both white and colored, are down on the program and a big time is expected.

THE directors of the C. O. & Danville pike are considering the question of building an iron bridge over Logan's Creek at Rowland and it should be done by all means. Supt. Jack Bosley says the wooden costs more than $100 a year to keep it in repair and is very unsatisfactory generally.

MR. EDWARD BRAZELBY is arranging for a declamation contest at the Opera House here, about the 29th. The idea is to have the towns of Danville and Lancaster send two representatives each to contend with the two from here. The proceeds are to go to a Bible College in Tennessee, which is being built to educate poor young men.

BADLY BITTEN.—Miss Sis Petrey, daughter of Sam Petrey, of the Ottenheim section, was horribly bitten by a bulldog belonging to Peter Haas, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Petrey went to Mr. Haas' house and while there the dog got loose from a post to which he was tied and before assistance could be rendered he had bitten her badly about the limbs and hands.

THE building of a new pike is being agitated by Messrs. G. P. Bright, A. G. Carman, B. W. Given and others. It is proposed to build it along the road opened through Mr. A. M. Feiend's a few years ago, which was the cause of much litigation, and thence through Mr. Greenway Bright's to Mr. James Robinson's on the Danville and Lancaster pike. It is stated that Garrard county will extend it if built to her line.

Mrs. G. B. COOPER has a rooster that lays eggs. He is of the Plymouth Rock variety and is a fine specimen. The eggs are not so large as hen's eggs but are longer and the surface is very uneven. The contents are the same as those of an ordinary egg and they are just as good to eat.

As soon as she can get enough eggs for a setting Mrs. Cooper will give the rooster a chance to show what he can do in that line.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

A revival is in progress in the Frankfort penitentiary. The chaplain baptized 13 Sunday.

Elder J. G. Livingston and Joe Severance, Jr., held a 10-days' meeting at Holdiom's Mill and drew 17 souls into the fold.

Rev. Carlos H. Hanks, pastor of the Congregational church at Zanesville, O., has started his congregation by refusing to accept an increase of salary.

Eld. W. E. Ellis is holding a protracted meeting at Scott's Fork, in Garrard, and Eld. Joe Severance, Jr., will preach for him here at 11 A. M. Sunday.

TWO girls were arrested in Johnson, Wash., recently for giggling in church.

A religious wave is surging in Middlesboro. In the last three months 135 persons have joined the churches, the Baptists getting 55, the Presbyterians 38, Christians 25 and Episcopalians 15.

The General Colored Baptist Association will be held at Owensboro, beginning next Monday. Excursions will be run from all parts of the country, and it is expected that between 10,000 and 15,000 people will attend.

Stanford preachers might take this to advantage: The pastors of three churches in Cynthiaburg have decided not to preach in the future more than half an hour and to call on any member caught nodding during the service to lead in prayer.

Rev. W. J. Doran, recently one of the leading lights of High Bridge camp-meeting, and a number of prominent Methodists have purchased 40 acres of woodlands at Boone's Gap, near Berea, which they propose to convert into a gigantic camp meeting resort. Cottages will be built and a mammoth auditorium, with a seating capacity of 10,000 erected at once.

It was a magnificent lecture that Rev. Geo. O. Barnes delivered at the Tabernacle last night, and no audience ever left that building better pleased than did the one that had the pleasure of listening to him. There was information to be obtained from it that the average person could not gain in weeks and months of reading. His object in delivering three lectures in this city is to raise money to enable him to continue to preach the gospel. Where the collections are small, as they have been here, he has to take this course to raise money to pay his expenses.—Hopkinsville New Era.

LEADERS IN FASHION.TWO GOWNS SEEN IN A NEW YORK SHOW WINDOW.

No End of New Ideas In Hats and Bonnets. Shapes May Conform to the Face of the Weaver—A Calico Ball at Lenox—The Four Hundred Hard Pushed.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Associa- tion.]

A novel idea has been developed this week and two gowns placed in a show window, from whence they were removed in a few short hours to deck the forms of two of the best dressers in this city. One was a skirt made of golden brown taffeta cut in circular shape. Over the gold brown silk were laid rows of black heronies braid an inch wide. This was tacked on, and then narrow soutache braid in silver was sewed in over mid under pattern, the loops being fastened to the braid, the whole forming an openwork pattern between the braids through which the gold colored silk showed richly. The front of the skirt laid plain across, while the back fell in godet plaits. Around the waist was a pointed polka, and this was trimmed with two rows of heronies and one row of over and under pattern. There was a belt with long ends made in the same manner, and the collet had a similar trimming. The waist to this skirt was of gold colored moire, with a choker collar and bands around the elbow of the same work. The amount of hand labor put upon this gown made it sumptuous and also very expensive, but its novelty rendered it desirable. There will be others like it, but this has the merit of being the first.

The other gown was made of inch wide picot ribbon in dark blue, sewed together in Mexican lace stitch with saddler's silk of the same color, the stitches catching into the picot loops. The skirt beneath this was of pale pink, which showed up beautifully through the blue silk mesh. The skirt was plain, but quite full in the back portion, where it dipped a little, just enough to reach the ground. There was a basque cut exactly round and opening in front a little at the bottom to show a pink vest. The basque closed on the left diagonally under two loops and three bows of blue ribbon. The gigot sleeves were of blue faille of the exact shade of the ribbon and immense in size. All this openwork was done by hand and must have been a labor of great patience, but the effect was unique when done. I doubt if many gowns will be made exactly like it, but some of the many kinds of insertions may be sewed between the ribbons. It averages 20 bands of ribbon and as many rows of needlework to make the length of a skirt, and the width is five yards around the bottom, graduating to about two at the top, so that it is easy to calculate about how many yards of ribbon it needs, and this would cost not less than 8 cents a yard. The braid is a little cheaper, but not very much. Besides all that there are the silk, lining, bones, etc., that make the price run up to an alarming extent, aside from the handwork, but what is all that compared to the fact that you have a dress that few will be able to duplicate, at least until you have worn off the first freshness of your gown?

In the same house was a very pretty dress just completed for a bright young society lady, for a "Newport astonisher," as one person styled it. The whole suit was of drab and purple basket check in the new Irish hand woven linen. The skirt was gored, and around the bottom there was a bias spring flounce 10 inches deep, stitched with black silk. The basque was cut bias and pulled into shape without darts, leaving a polka which was faced with plain drab linen. The sleeves were extra large and finished off like the flounce, and there was a double cape of the same faced with plain linen and closing on the left side with three fancy pearl buttons. White linen cuffs and collar gave a very neat effect to this suit. There were black ribbon and a steel buckle at the waist.

This new linen is sold by but one house here and is woven to their order in Ireland. The weave is much like hopsacking; but, while flexible, it is very firm, and it is glossy and really a very beautiful fabric. The colors are nearly all neutral and woven in some sort of plaid, all small, however.

There seems no end to the development of new ideas in hats and bonnets. Some of the prettiest of these have little or nothing to them, yet they are pretty and nearly always becoming. A rough and ready black straw was in the shape of a turban with a decided point in the front of the brim. On the top were set black velvet bows, and along the front were rosettes of pink crepe de chine—six of them. It made a very becoming bit of feminine apparel. There was a hat of rough straw in dark blue and white, with an edge made to resemble white straw beads held with blue straws. The brim was faced with blue crepe italienne. On the outside there were three blue iris lilies, with green foliage caught down like so many ribbons. The flowers stood upright. This hat was to be worn with the blue ribbon gown.

It depends upon the wearer what shape the hat will take. It may be bent and twisted to any angle or any number of folds and involutions. One graceful style was made with the rushlike straw shape bent down on each side just enough to form a curve. On the top of the dark green crown was a bunch of field daisies and loops of sage green ribbon. There was a wire around the brim covered with twisted sage green ribbon. Such a hat was more than pretty for a golden blonde. A cute little bonnet had a coronet of quilled pink satin ribbon around a crown of white porcupine chips. A large American Beauty rose was its sole trimming, except—if it may be called a trimming—large strings of white tulip to tie under the chin. The wide brim sailor, white, blue, red, green, purple or black, is a prime favorite. Some of them are trimmed quite heavily.

SUMMER FANCIES.

ly, but those in the best taste have little ornamentation. A flat bow is the most appropriate—white on white is by far the neatest and best taste for young women at least.

No middle aged woman ought to dream of wearing a sailor; but, as many do and will, let them at least choose the dark colors. The clam shell shape in rough straw make a nice everyday hat for women of almost any age. I remarked one today that is picturesque and from its broken lines is suited to any face. The hat itself was black. Under the brim was a wrinkle of mauve silk and another just above the brim. There were five black plumes—two laid along the sides and two stood up in front, while the fifth drooped on the back.

Several of the young leaders of fashion have adopted the mode of combing the hair up from the temples, and they laughingly dare all other women to do the same. Not all faces will bear this severe treatment, but when one thinks how very difficult it is to keep the hair in crimp and curl one feels like following the lead.

We have been told over and over that the sleeves were to be made smaller, but more than half of the newest gowns have larger sleeves than have ever been seen in this generation. If the material of which they are made is silk, it takes from six to eight yards; if of wide woolen goods, about three. But the sleeves are picturesque if costly, and we ought to be satisfied to get something tangible for our money for once. Even the sleeves to bill dresses are larger off than the waist of the wearer.

Speaking of ball gowns reminds me that I hear from good authority that all those dainty sprigged and flowered lavishes that were whisked off the counters of the importers so suddenly last winter are to be worn at the balls and hops and cotillions at the swell watering places. Some young ladies, I am told, have no less than 10 of these dainty and delicate frocks, each one having its own set of ribbons and laces to match the colors and flowers to correspond with those in the figure.

I was told, too, that there is to be a calico ball at Lenox, where every lady who does not wear a calico gown will be fined and any trimming costing over 10 cents will also be the occasion of a fine. The money accruing from fines will go into a fund for a worthy charity. No jewels will be permitted without a fine. One lady is having a "kallikrion" gown made of chintz in the most enormous and outrageous pattern possible to discover. Another has a piece of calico representing whole families of ents, and this is to be made up into her costume. Verily the Four Hundred seem to be very hard pushed for something to amuse themselves with. Calico balls are not novelties, but dresses with flourishes of cats are. There will naturally be plenty of pretty little costumes made of calico, and if girls only knew it they can be irresistible in dainty print dresses.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

An Active Woman.

Leavenworth, Kan., has a woman police commissioner—Mrs. Eva M. Blackman. The inhabitants particularly the newspaper young men, were rather inclined to make a joke of her appointment at first, but she soon convinced them that she was not at all to be taken as a joke. She has succeeded in getting the disreputable old jail thoroughly cleaned up and ventilated. She has also instituted a system of police signals whereby members of the force can be put into immediate communication with one another. Another thing she did was to drive a variety concert troupe out of Leavenworth. Mrs. Blackman is young, only 27 years old. She was a stenographer before her appointment. She is one of the strong, intellectual women that the labor and Populist movement have brought to light in Kansas to such a remarkable degree. She edits a little paper called The Labor News and does much of the typesetting on it herself.

The sewing and cooking classes connected with working girls' clubs have been of the greatest assistance to these young ladies. They carry the knowledge gained in the classes into their poor homes and make them brighter, happier and more healthful.

Sewing and Cooking.

The sewing and cooking classes connected with working girls' clubs have been of the greatest assistance to these young ladies. They carry the knowledge gained in the classes into their poor homes and make them brighter, happier and more healthful.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
